

I bet one or two of the guests would kill to get their hands on this!

I wonder if anyone onboard is handy with one of these?

Great for tying up loose ends.

Without one of these, a captain might become dangerously unmoored.

Bill must be pretty handy with one of these.

Looking ahead isn't just for fortune tellers.

Any fisherman would appreciate this fine specimen.

Its strings are broken but it still might have its uses.

Handy for someone who likes a cocktail or 201 seen its uses.
